

Demonstrate your commitment to maintaining safe and healthy building environments to create peace of mind for tenants.

DELIVERING PEACE OF MIND IN OUR BUILT ENVIRONMENT

While there is no magic shield to protect building occupants from infectious diseases, prudent building owners should be doing everything they can to bring comfort to the occupants in the new COVID-19 world. These efforts include pursuing health and wellness certifications like WELL, Fitwel, LEED IAQ, and RESET to create healthier building environments for occupants and to demonstrate in very clear terms that their building is safer than others that have not undertaken the same efforts or considerations.

Enpowered works with clients to determine the best solutions for their specific sites, and then helps them to implement those solutions efficiently and effectively.

Healthy Building Certifications

Find the appropriate certifications for your buildings and start your journey towards a healthy building environment.

Building Standards

Discover and implement the latest in building recommendations from leading national standards organizations.

Occupant Communications

Showcase your healthy building leadership to give your occupants and visitors the assurances they need that the building is ready and safe for occupancy.

Buildings are being designed to be energy efficient but not necessarily with health and wellness aspects in mind. The Enpowered team can help building owners and managers achieve the appropriate health and wellness certifications to thrive in a post COVID-19 world. Enpowered leverages its deep engineering and controls background to focus its certification activities around those components that medical experts agree will yield the greatest health benefits to occupants, such as increased air ventilation and enhanced filtration.
